WHO WE SERVE

The Lowman High Performance Training Institute works with sales organizations, corporate leadership teams, entrepreneurs, and high-achieving professionals who are ready to break through the invisible ceiling separating their current results from their true potential. We operate on one foundational truth:

“Your external results will never exceed your internal self-image.”

WHAT WE DO

LHPTI delivers mental performance coaching, keynote speaking, and corporate training programs that transform the way leaders and sales professionals think, feel, and perform. Unlike conventional skills training, our work goes to the root cause of underperformance — the subconscious paradigms and self-image limitations that no CRM, sales script, or leadership seminar can fix.

WHY COACH LOWMAN

Coach Michael Lowman is not a motivational speaker. He is a mental performance engineer who has lived the methodology he teaches. At the peak of his career, he suffered a medical crisis that resulted in the complete loss of his eyesight. Using the principles of Bob Proctor and Les Brown — his personal mentors — he rebuilt his life, his business, and his purpose from the inside out. He now teaches those same principles to executives and sales organizations worldwide.

Credentials: Certified by Bob Proctor's Proctor Gallagher Institute · Trained by Les Brown · Founder, Lowman High Performance Training Institute · Host, And Now I See Podcast · Featured Speaker, Global Awakened Summit
